The following Home Financing Policy – Sound and Economical Determination and Alignment with the FHLB System Mission are only required for institutions not subject to the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA). If your institution is subject to, and has received a CRA rating, please provide documentation regarding that rating and disregard the following sections.

Home Financing Policy – Sound and Economical Determination

A requirement for FHLB applicants outlined in 12 CFR §1263.6 (a)(6) requires applicants demonstrate their “home financing policy is consistent with sound and economical home financing.” While there is no formal regulatory definition on what constitutes “sound and economical home financing,” FHLBank Indianapolis requires the following parameters to demonstrated in the submitted home financing policy to qualify as “sound and economical”:

1. Underwriting Standards – Guidelines or selection criteria for originating or investing in home loans and/or residential investment transactions (e.g. RMBS purchases).
2. Risk Management Practices – Risk management activities taken to ensure the home financing activities are being done in a safe and sound manner.
3. Compliance with Laws and Regulations – Home financing transactions must comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

An applicant that does not have a formal home financing policy may provide separate procedural or policy documents that will serve as a “de facto home financing policy” provided they contain and demonstrate the three core parameters outlined above.

The following questions and responses will assist in supporting the basis for determining if the applicant’s home financing policy (or de facto home financing policy) is “sound and economical.”

1. What policies or procedures, if any, has the applicant adopted that address how the applicant finances or invests in housing-related assets that is consistent with sound and economical transactions? Examples include mortgage loan underwriting guidelines, investment selection criteria, consumer protection and fair housing guidelines or other similar policies or procedures. Please list and provide copies of all relevant documents to the Bank:

2. Does the applicant have underwriting standards or selection criteria for their home financing transactions?  Yes  No

In general, please describe these standards and note where these references are located within your policy or procedural documents:

3. Does the applicant have risk management practices in place to adequately manage and control the risk associated with their home financing transactions? Examples can include stress testing, reporting to senior management, loan/investment reviews, concentration limits, etc.  Yes  No

In general, please describe these practices and note where these references are located within your policy or procedural documents:

4. Does the applicant abide by all applicable laws and regulations when engaging in their home financing transactions?  Yes  No

In general, please describe how the applicant abides by applicable laws and regulations and note where adherence to these laws are located and referenced within your policy or procedural documents:

5. Does the applicant engage in any “non-traditional” lending or investment activities such as subprime lending, non-qualified mortgage lending, investment in private-label RMBS or other alternative residential lending or investment activities?  Yes  No

“Non-traditional” home financing activities are acceptable to engage in provided they controlled and managed in a safe and sound manner. Please describe the additional risk mitigation controls taken for these types of activities. Examples include more conservative underwriting standards or selection criteria, additional or increased frequency of reporting, or other efforts that help mitigate the additional risk these activities exhibit.

FHLB System Mission Alignment

A requirement for FHLB applicants not subject to the Community Reinvestment Act (outlined in 12 CFR §1263.13(b) require applicants submit a written justification on how and why their home financing policy (or de facto home financing policy) is consistent with the FHLBank System’s housing finance mission.

12 CFR §1265.2 provides that, “The mission of the FHLBanks is to provide to their members' and housing associates financial products and services, including but not limited to advances, that assist and enhance such members' and housing associates financing (a) Financing of housing, including single-family and multi-family housing serving consumers at all income levels; and (b) Community lending.”

The FHLBank Indianapolis expects applicants to demonstrate the ability to originate, acquire or invest in single-family and/or multi-family home mortgage loans and/or securities backed by these loans; abide by all relevant consumer protection laws and regulations; and engage in community development, support or investment activities that meet the needs of the community the applicant serves.

The following questions and written responses will assist in supporting the basis for determining if the applicant’s home financing policy (or de facto home financing policy) is consistent with the FHLBank System’s housing finance mission.

1. Does the applicant originate, acquire or invest in single-family and/or multi-family home mortgage loans?  Yes  No
2. Does the applicant invest in securities backed by single-family and/or multi-family home mortgage loans?  Yes  No
3. When originating or acquiring single-family and/or multifamily home mortgage loans or investing in securities backed by these loans, does the applicant abide by all applicable federal, state and local anti-predatory lending, credit-related consumer protection, unfair and deceptive lending practice, and fair housing and other similar nondiscrimination laws and regulations?  Yes  No

Please describe how the applicant abides by consumer protection laws and regulations and note where adherence to these requirements is located and referenced within your policy or procedural documents. Please also describe any other efforts taken to ensure consumers rights are being protected.

4. What housing-related activities does the applicant engage in that support the needs of the community it serves? Examples include lending to low-income, distressed or underserved geographies, providing insurance related to housing (homeowners, title, flood, mortgage, etc.), investment in low-income tax credits, providing first-time homebuyer assistance, providing financial literacy education, or other community development, support or investment activities that meet the needs of the community.

In addition to answering the above questions, please submit with your application a formal written justification that outlines how and why the applicant feels their home financing policy and business activities are consistent with the mission of the FHLBanks. In drafting your statement, please include items and information that:

- Recognizes the importance of the FHLBank System housing finance mission with emphasis on sound and economical transactions.
- Identifies the relevant policies or procedures that describes the applicant's philosophy regarding the origination, investment or acquisition of mortgage-related assets. Mortgage-related assets include single-family home mortgage loans, home equity loans and lines-of-credit, multifamily home mortgage loans (apartment buildings, college dormitories, nursing homes/care centers for elderly individuals, etc.), and pass-through, mortgage-backed securities and collateralized mortgage obligations (CMOs and REMICs) backed by residential mortgage loans.
- Describe policies, procedures, and practices to ensure compliance with applicable anti-predatory lending, fair-housing and consumer protection laws for both origination and investment activities.
- Describe in what ways the applicant participates in community development and support and otherwise meets the needs of the community the applicant serves.
- Identify and describe products and services offered to the communities the applicant serves that align with the mission of the FHLBank System.

Please attach with your written justification statement all applicable policies, references and other supporting information that should be considered and evaluated by the FHLBank Indianapolis.
